

Analysis & Insights from WeRateDogs

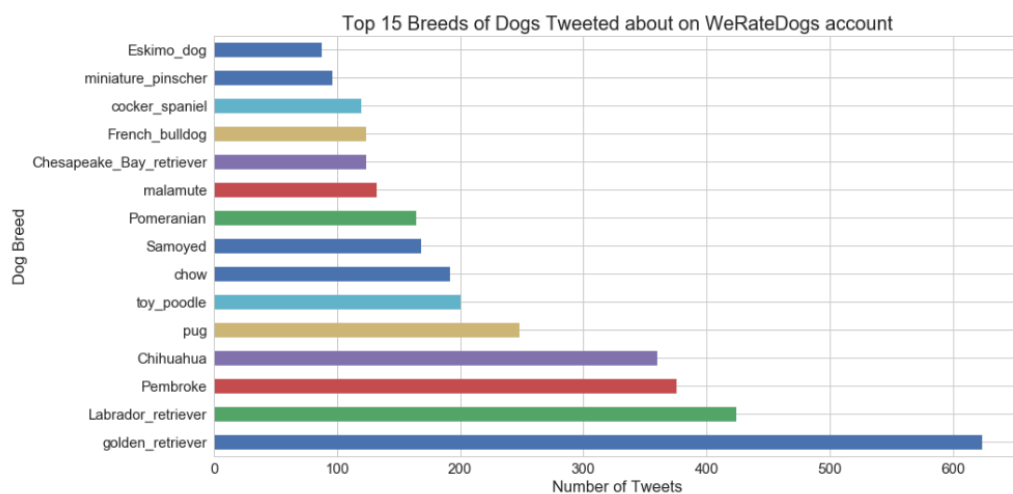

The analysis involved going through the Weratedogs dataset in a bid to come up with valuable insights. According to Wikipedia, WeRateDogs is a Twitter account started in 2015 by college student Matt Nelson. Today the account has 7.94million followers and over 142,000likes.Matt has been able to achieve this mass appeal and followership by rating people's dogs humorously. I was able to analyze over 2356tweets, removing unclean data, retweets and data without images in a bid to come up with the insights below.

Question: What twitter App did most weratedogs tweets come from

From the data below, we can see that 479 tweets came from Twitter for iPhone. Matt & his team at weratedogs are mostly likely iPhone users.

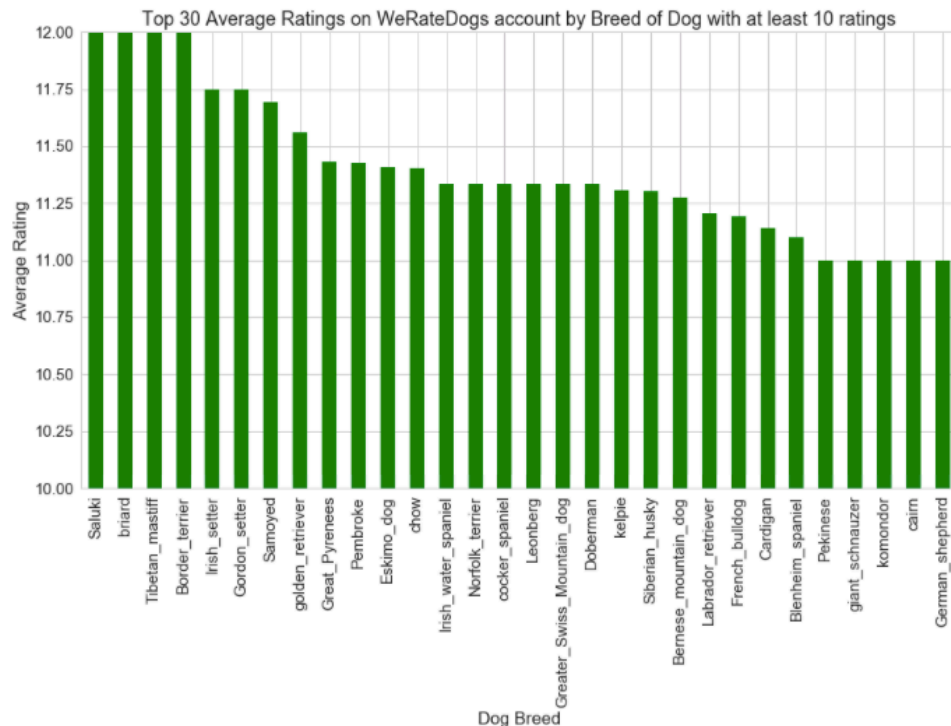

Question: What breeds of dogs were mostly tweeted about on the weratedogs account

From the chart, we can see that the top five dogs tweeted about are the Golden Retriever, Labrador Retriever, Pembroke Welsh Corgi, Chihuahua and Pug. In fact, the Golden

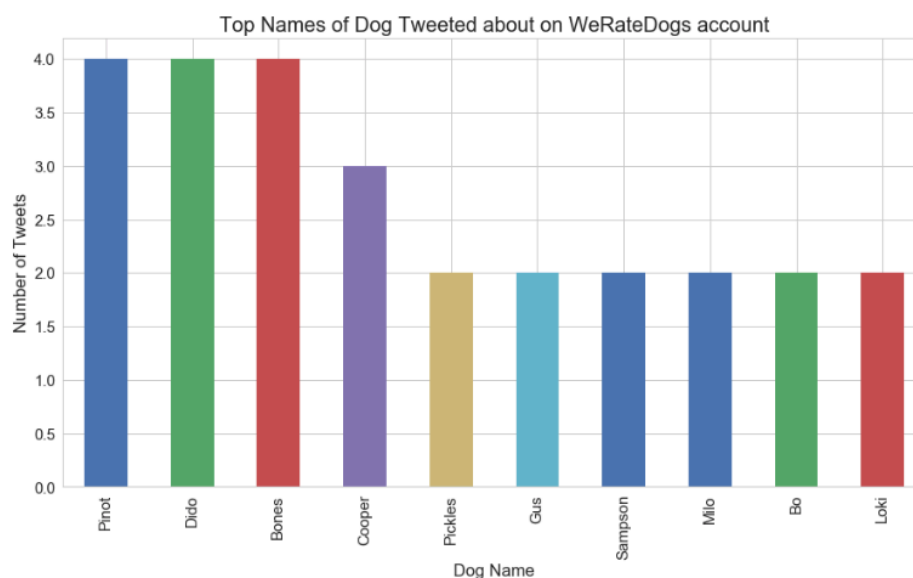

Retriever was tweeted about 200 times more than the next best; Labrador retriever. This could mean that more people had golden retrievers

Question: What breeds of dogs had the highest ratings

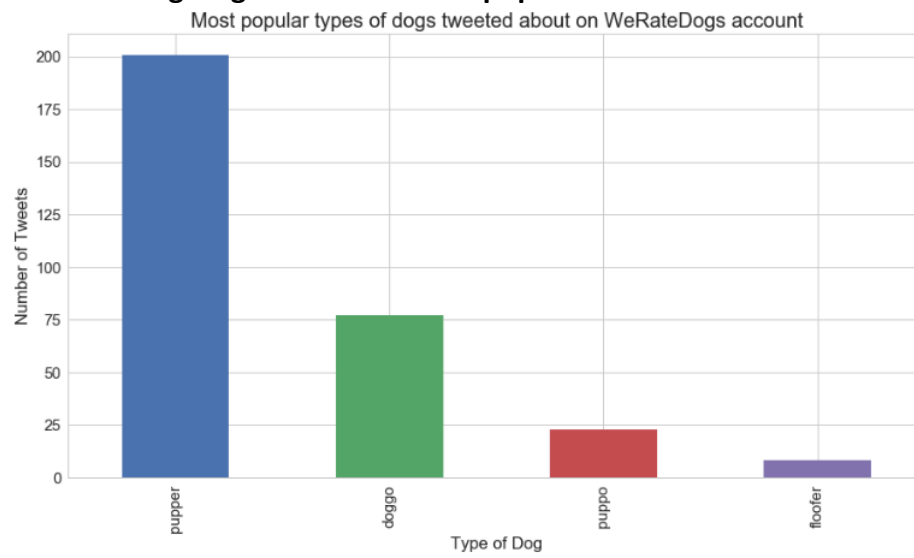

The top rated breeds are Samoyed, Golden Retriever, Great Pyrenees, Pembroke Welsh Corgi and Eskimo dog.

Question: What dog names were the most popular

Of all the names of dogs tweeted about on the weratedogs account, Pinot, Dido & Bones were the most popular

Question: What dog stages were the most popular

Dogs within the Pupper dog stage seemed to be the most popular ones tweeted about.